Hail to Thee, Our Alma Mater

High above Old Bayou's water
Out on Center Heights
Stands our Noble Alma Mater
Towering in her might.

Keep her colors ever floating
Sing her praises due
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail the Gold and Blue.

THOMAS H. TAYLOR

Dean of Liberal Arts

A. B., A. M. Baylor University. Economics and Government. Secretary faculty Howard Payne, 1907-1912; Registrar 1912-1915. Dean 1915-1927.

Dean has the distinction of being everything from a country boy student to the governing officer of the college. He has taught in every department and supervised in every subject. His genius is so versatile, so equally adapted to every pursuit, that in whatever he engages, you would pronounce him to have been born for that very thing alone.

MISS DEANE SUE RUSSELL

Dean of Women

A. B. Baylor University; M. A. Columbia University. Work on Ph. D. at Chicago University. Instructor in Sociology and Dean of Women in Howard Payne College, 1927.

Miss Russell comes to us as Dean of Women from Averitt College, Virginia, where she filled this position for three years. She entered immediately into the activities of the students and went in for everything that was for their betterment.

Her work at other institutions cannot be excelled. Throughout these several years of school work she has been noted as a consecrated Christian and a staunch Baptist.

FINE ARTS

Voice Department

The Voice Department of Howard Payne College has attained a wide reputation throughout the Southwest and even the entire South. The voice department has turned out some of the best artists in this section of Texas.

Mr. Marshall who is at the head of the department as well as Dean of Fine Arts is unexcelled as an instructor. Not only is he known throughout Texas as having a voice of wonderful quality, but is recognized throughout the South as one of its leading singers and instructors. It is through his efforts that the leading musical attractions of the United States are brought to Brownwood. He has earned for Brownwood the title of "The Musical City of the West."

Each year the voice department has sponsored the College Glee Clubs. Mr. Marshall, this year, turned especial attention to a Girls' Glee Club and some wonderful talent has been found and developed. The girls have made several public appearances and each time have made a "hit." They also made a tour of South Texas.

Mr. Marshall has also developed a fine Boys' Quartette and wherever they have appeared this season they have made a "hit."

CAMERON MARSHALL

Piano Department

The Piano Department of Howard Payne College, due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Lyman Stanley, has for the past few years grown so rapidly and to such an extent that today it stands in the foremost rank of musical institutions in the Southwest.

The enrollment in this department is very large. Special students and teachers come many miles to avail themselves of the opportunities offered by the Piano Department.

Aside from the regular school terms, special attention is given each year to those desiring study during the summer months. Besides private instruction, a master class in piano playing is held twice each week, thereby affording extra time for greater accomplishment.

The School of Music cannot be surpassed in its piano equipment. The College installed a new line of Baldwin grand pianos last fall in order that utmost artistic development might be accomplished in the various departments.

Owing to his ability as a concert pianist, the Baldwin Company has placed Mr. Stanley on their list of artists using the Baldwin piano. This is not only a compliment to Mr. Stanley, but to Howard Payne College in having a man at the head of the Piano Department holding this distinction.

This department is still growing and through its efficient instructor it is destined to become the best in the Southwest.

LYMAN STANLEY

Expression Department

The Expression Department of Howard Payne College has an excellent teacher this year in Miss Antoinette Sparks of Birmingham, Alabama. This is Miss Sparks' first year as a teacher in Howard Payne, but nevertheless she has made wonderful progress with the Expression Department.

From this department come all the declaimers, debaters, public speakers and actors. It is here that the talent of our rising young orators is developed along the right lines. Some of the best debates in college circles have been staged by men and women from this department of Howard Payne.

This department has sponsored several plays produced by the Dramatic Club and under the able direction of Miss Sparks. Such plays as "Lady Windermere's Fan," "Kempy," and "Taming of the Shrew."

MISS ANTOINETTE SPARKS

Violin Department

This is the first year that Mr. J. P. Bohlin has been in Howard Payne as Professor of Violin. Mr. Bohlin came from New York to Howard Payne. While in New York, Mr. Bohlin taught Violin, and he is an excellent teacher. He has had much experience in this line of work, and is fully capable of holding the position that he does.

Mr. Bohlin is also director of the Blue Devil Band, and the Howard Payne Little Symphony Orchestra. The band has made wonderful progress under his leadership. He has developed an orchestra that anyone should be proud to play in. The orchestra affords the students practical experience of their instruments. Throughout the year recitals are held regularly in which the students participate, thus giving them more experience on their instruments. The orchestra has appeared on different occasions and each time has made a fine impression. The department is recognized everywhere as being one of the best.

Art

Perspective and still life drawing in pencil are as a foundation to the student who intends to teach or enter the field of commercial art. The work in water colors and oils is done from copies of masterpieces, still life, and nature. Pen and ink sketching, plastic painting, all branches of commercial art, and costume designing is given also a one-year course of "teacher's training," which enables the student to teach. All seniors are required to take History of Art, China, and Novelty Decorations.

MISS LORENA FIELD

Treble Clef Club

The Treble Clef Club is one of the outstanding musical organizations of Brownwood. It is under the able direction of Mr. Cameron Marshall. Each year the Club makes a tour over the state. This year the tour will be far greater than any previous one, owing to the fact that the party will consist of the Glee Club, with eight soloists, a reader, and violinist. The College quartette will also accompany them. The Club has adopted a white sport dress and white sweater in which to make the appearance. A white Baldwin grand piano will also be taken on the trip.

On the spring tour they will appear in Comanche, Gorman, Breckenridge, Coleman, Goldthwaite, San Saba, Brady, Fredericksburg, Austin, San Marcos, San Antonio, Kerrville, Junction, San Angelo and Ballinger.

The personnel of the Club is as follows: Lucille Kaneaster, Brownwood; Clara Halden, San Saba; Jennie Taylor, Brownwood; Ruth Lyons, Vernon; Eloise Watson, Elma Petty and Sarah Knox, Brownwood; Billy Eads, Bangs; Grace Hardy, Ola McDonald and Vada Floyd, Brownwood; Nettie Wright, Junction; Greta Winebrenner, Brownwood; Hallie Beth Scales, Gorman; Mary Katherine Boon, Lois Honea and Edna Germany, Brownwood; Elizabeth Early, violinist, Bangs; Alice Skerritt, pianist, Brownwood; Antoinette Sparks, reader, Birmingham, Ala.; Cameron Marshall, director and soloist.

Junior Quartette

ROY RUBOTTOM	First Tenor
TRUETT BROOKS	Bass
ROLAND CURRIE	Baritone
STEPH HEATHERLY	Second Tenor

The Junior Quartette is a group of boys under the personal instruction of Mr. Cameron Marshall. They are all private students of his, and also receive coaching in quartette work. They, both alone and with the College Quartette, have made many appearances in Brownwood. They have met with much approval in the eyes of music lovers. Having exceptional voices for boys of their ages, Mr. Marshall is expecting great things of them.

Blue Devil Band

The Howard Payne Blue Devil Band was organized the first week of the Fall term and has continued regular work throughout the entire year. Professor John Paul Bohlin, of New York, took up the work left off in the spring of 1926 by Cambell Wray and has had great success considering the fact that the membership is somewhat smaller than that of last year. Former director Cambell Wray has spent the past year in a school of music in Chicago and is receiving his Master's Degree this Spring.

The band has been prominent in the activities of the town, leading in local parades, and co-operating when duty called.

To encourage the students to play in the Band, to secure students who are interested in that work, the college offers scholarships, covering the tuition, to those who meet the requirements.

Howard Payne Orchestra

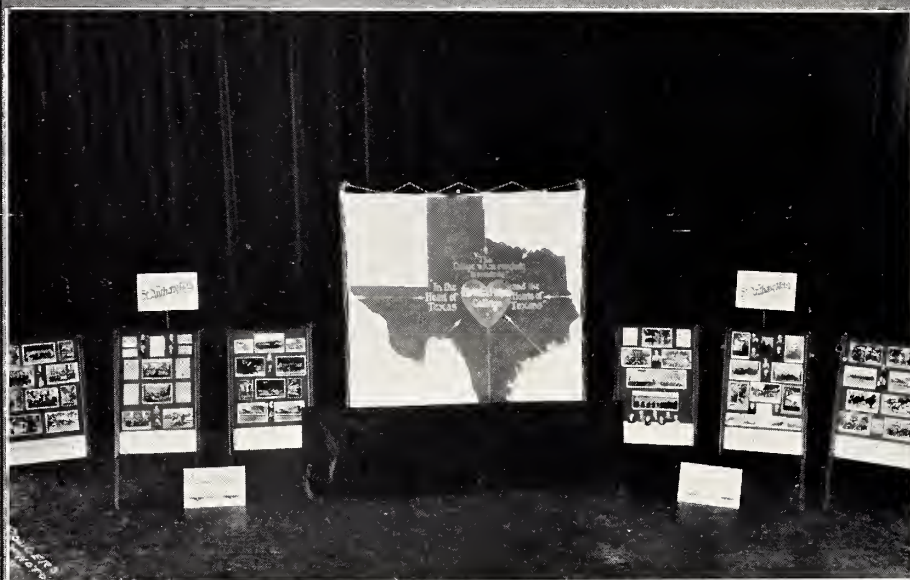

The Howard Payne Orchestra has done a great deal in helping make the entertainments of the year a success. It furnished music between acts, both for the Howard Payne Players and for the Shakespearean Players. Under the able direction of Mr. Bohlin it was always ready at any time with a group of good selections.

The orchestra furnishes a chance for those students who are not under private instruction to get some valuable training and coaching, and those who are, have ample time and opportunity to get some worth-while practice.

Who's Who

In the great world beyond our College gates there are citizens who stand out as leaders in the many activities which make up their lives. Just so it is in our College life. There are some students to whom we owe our appreciation for their leadership in the numerous activities which we enjoy here on the campus.

A committee composed of two members of the faculty, two outstanding students and three members of the staff made the selection. The students who were selected were not told of the plan and this section will be as much a surprise to them as to the entire student body.

There are, doubtless, some names which have been omitted which the reader believes should have been included. There are, perhaps, some among those selected of whom the reader does not approve, but the committee feels that the names have been selected with careful attention and presents the following pages as a representative list of the leaders in Howard Payne College.

ORGANIZATIONS

Students' Association

The Organization of the Students' Association of Howard Payne College has had as its ideals since its beginning the handling of student problems. This may be better expressed in this way: The Students' Association serves as a buffer, if that be necessary, between the frictions that arise between faculty and student, as well as between groups of students.

The Students' Association may receive severe criticism, but we feel that we have had a successful year under the presidency of Mr. Harvey Stanford.

B. S. U. Council

The B. S. U. Council (Baptist Students' Union) is composed of students of the college, elected to places on the council by the student body. Its principal mission is to direct the religious activities of the college on the campus, although it does much work outside the student body, working through the Volunteer Band, Ministerial Council, and other religious organizations of the college. The members of the council hold office for a term of one year and many young men and young women are given, through the medium of the council, which is probably the most active organization on the campus, an opportunity to give a year of worthwhile service. The motto of the council is "Every student in some religious service every Sunday."

The Press Club is a literary organization, dealing in all phases of Journalism. All those doing work on the annual or paper are members of this club, and any others who are interested in the work. The club has regular weekly meetings, taking up some special phase of work. One week is given to the annual, while the next is taken up with some discussion of the paper. We have been favored by having the leading Journalists of the college and of the town to give us special talks. It is one of the outstanding organizations of the college for development. Letters are given for work done on the publications of the college. More interest has been shown in the work this year than ever before.

Woman's Athletic Association

Through the executive ability of Miss Antoinette Sparks, director of physical training in Howard Payne College, the scope of co-ed athletics in the school has been greatly broadened. Miss Sparks has been ably assisted in her work by Miss Maxine Lary, president of the "Woman's Athletic Association."

The work in this department may be classified in four general groups: Tennis, hiking, swimming, and horseback riding. A girl's basket ball team was also sponsored this year with Miss Vida Moore as coach. Although no intercollegiate games were played, much local interest was shown.

Of the different activities sponsored by the Association, the Hiking Club has received the greatest support. With Queen Anderson as president, the Club has taken two or more hikes each month. The members have also purchased sweaters which carry the hiking emblem.

Miss Eltrue Wash, president of the Tennis Club; Miss Imogene Lane, president of the Riding Club; and Miss Billie Eads, president of the Swimming Club, have each been capable directors in the work of their respective groups.

From the Staff

The making of a yearbook is by no means an easy task. The Editor was often forced to call for help when the work piled up. Those who responded to that call rendered a distinct service to their college in helping to put out a creditable Annual, and incidentally won for themselves a lasting place in the hearts of the Staff. To these, and to all others who helped to make this yearbook what it is, we take great pleasure in dedicating this page of "THE LASSO."

Coaching Staff

T. B. AMIS

For three consecutive seasons the Yellow Jackets have been brilliantly and successfully coached by one of the best coaches in the state of Texas. The Yellow Jackets have shown improvement in every game that they have played since they have been under the tutorship of Coach

T. B. "DAD" AMIS

Yellow Jacket supporters believe Coach Amis to be the best coach that Howard Payne has ever had, and they know that he is the superior of all Texas Conference mentors.

Coach Amis' contract as a Yellow Jacket mentor expires this year, and it is not certain that he will be back to coach the Jackets to a championship team next fall, but it is the sincere wish of all the students and supporters that he will.

Howard Payne had one of the most able assistant coaches in her history during the past season. It was an example of a former player returning to his Alma Mater to assist in developing her athletic teams.

ASSISTANT COACH JOE BAILEY CHEANEY

former star halfback on past Yellow Jacket teams, has assisted Coach Amis wonderfully well the past year in developing such wonderful athletic teams as the two coaches have put out this year.

Cheaney had charge of the backfield men during the football season and developed some wonderful passers, punters and runners. Cheaney could show his men exactly how a thing should be done, thus making it much easier for them to learn.

During Cheaney's college days he was known as a triple threat man of the gridiron. He climaxed his football career with a 100-yard run through the baffled defense of his most bitter rivals, the Simmons Cowboys.

JOE BAILEY CHEANEY

Manager's Staff

J. HORACE (CAP) SHELTON not only did excellent work as graduate manager of athletics for Howard Payne during the athletic season of 1926-27, but he coached a wonderful track team during the spring term.

Coach Shelton has had much experience in this line of work, having done this kind of work for Howard Payne for the past several years. It was largely through his vast experience that he has been so successful this season.

Coach Shelton also helped Coaches Amis and Cheaney during the football season.

J. HORACE SHELTON

STUDENT MANAGER JOHN ALLEN certainly did his part to help the Yellow Jackets have a successful season during the past football season of 1926-27. This is the second year that Allen has acted as Student Manager of Howard Payne athletics, and he has done well both times.

JOHN ALLEN

Besides being Student Manager, Allen played a fine season on the scrub team. He made Coach Maguire a very valuable man.

He had much trouble trying to keep the gates closed during secret practice, but he succeeded in doing so and this is indeed an accomplishment.

The Jacket-Pirate Game

What, Ho! The mighty men, from o'er the briny sea
Came to the land of the Jackets, brave,
To see what they could see.
" 'Tis nothin'," said Sir Roger, the chief,
"We'll take their thunderin' hides. They are meat
We love to eat, and throw to the lashin' tides."

So the Pirates twenty-eight with their pieces of eight
Came down on the Jacket nest;
Came down with a soar, while the cannon did roar
O'er the camp of the Jacket, so upset.

With the cutlasses, clubs and other cruel things
The Pirates landed with glee.
"We'll swarth the lubbers and skin their hides,"
Quoth the Pirate Captain so free.

But in the Jacket camp all was quiet,
Too quiet, the Pirate chieftain thought;
For in years before in the days of yore
Quietness his defeat had brought.

" 'Tis no battle to fear, me lads,"
Quoth the man of many a war;
"The Jackets are scared to the white of their eyes,
And will never fight no more."

But now a mighty howl came from the bleachers so nigh
Sir Roger and the men didst look back,
And lo! and behold, there came so bold
A whole nest of the Yellow Jackets.

"To arms! To arms!" he cried with no mirth.
A royal battle ensued;
The Jackets stung them here and there
Until they were blacked and blued.

Soon the encounter was over,
A gang plank was brought by the aides,
And the Pirates walked down to the foamy brine
And were laid away in the shade.

Now let this tale be a warning
To those whom the Jackets will meet.
Anyone who tries the Jackets and their fight and pep
Will surely go down in defeat.

—Forrest J. Agee.

FOOTBALL

The Season

HORACE CALDWELL, Captain
Halfback

Sept. 23—H. P. C.	22	A. C. C.	0
Sept. 28—H. P. C.	0	St. Mary	0

Nov. 25—H. P. C.	6	Simmons	13

Caldwell acted as field general from halfback position. He was a good blocker, a fierce tackler, and an aggressive ball carrier. Horace played his last game for the Blue and Gold, and will be greatly missed by all who know and love him.

Caldwell was chosen as second all-conference halfback.

Scrub Season

The scrubs have had a very successful season, playing seven games and scrimmaging nineteen times with the varsity. Of the seven games played, the scrubs won four, lost two, and tied one. Coach Maguire had some fine material on the scrub team the past season, and many of them are expected to make the varsity next fall.

Ray Glasscock, Captain of the Scrubs, played an excellent game at quarter, proving that he was a fine field general, and that he knew football.

Nig McCarver, playing at half, turned in a good season and showed that he had the stuff to make the varsity next fall.

"Pie" Sales played a wonderful season at full, and should make the varsity with flying colors next fall.

Westbrook made Coach Maguire a fine halfback during the past season, and with a little more training he should make a wonderful player.

Coach "Frog" John Allen played a fine game at end throughout the entire season.

Coach John Maguire's work with the Scrubs was very fine. He put his soul and body into the work, and he certainly developed a fine team, both as good sportsmen and as football players. It is with regret that Howard Payne has to see Coach Maguire leave.

HARVEY STANFORD

Guard

Stanford has spent his fourth and last year with the Jackets. His absence will be sorely missed. He started the season in the backfield, but later found that he could do his best work in his old position as guard. We can always count on Stanford to get his man. He is a fighter from the start until the last whistle blows.

FOSTER COOK

Right End

Cook has an enviable high school and college record in football. Up until last year he had not missed a second of any game in six years. Lady Luck turned against him, however, and gave him a bad knee, which handicapped him the greater part of the season. His wing was the dread of opposing teams, and very few yards have been gained around him. He is a four-letter man, and has played his last game for the Gold and Blue.

WILLIS HODGES

End

All the fellows call Hodges "Midnight." "Midnight" was removed from guard position to play Nunnally's left wing position. "Midnight" seldom had his wing position circled on the defense, and on offense he was equally strong.

"Midnight" is greatly loved by all his team-mates, and he will join them again next year. He was chosen as second All-Conference end.

CLAUDE BOYD

Half Back

Captain-Elect

Boyd was indeed a valuable man for the Jackets. He was the most consistent ground gainer on the squad, and a fierce tackler on defense.

We are looking to Boyd to put pep into the Jacket camp next fall, and pilot them to victory.

BILL WRIGHT

Guard

All-Conference Center

Bill was a steady fighter. He snapped the ball back to a good advantage on offense, and backed the line to a fare-you-well on defense. A more fierce tackler was never born.

Remember the boys who won't be back next year, Bill, and hit 'em high, hit 'em low!

"RED" JOBES

Tackle

Second All-Conference Team

I don't know why the Jackets call him Whiskey Pete, for he never drinks anything stronger than water. But I do know that Pete was a tower of strength at left tackle position. He gave his all for Howard Payne from beginning to end. He often came off the field with black eyes and a bloody face, but little did he care for that.

Pete is alternate captain-elect for next year.

LEE WALKER

Quarterback

Walker played at quarterback position, and although he never was privileged with carrying the ball, he ran good interference for those who did carry it. He was a hard tackler and a good fighter.

The boys call him "Hermit" because he never associated with the girls. (They will have to change his name, now, however.)

He must be very fond of books, for all he can think about is Reid.

HARROLD SCOTT

Guard

A fighter and a demon from start to finish is this fellow Scott. He never failed to do his part in carrying an opponent out of the line and opening large holes for his offense. On defense he was equally strong. The opposing team seldom gained over Scottie's side. He has one more season to serve with the Gold and Blue.

OLEN SANDERLIN

End

Sanderlin is unexcelled on defense, and quite fair on offensive end.

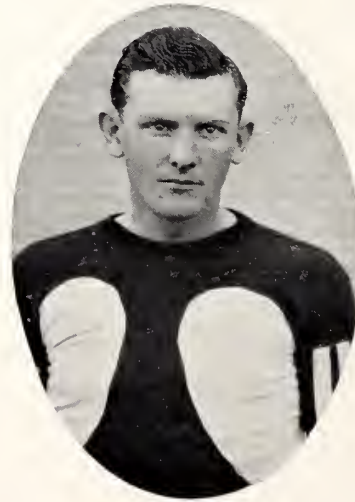

No player ever had more grit and determination than Pug. He was a very valuable man this year, and with a little more experience he will be as good a man as "Dad" Amis could want.

PAT CAGLE

Center

Pat was a little light in weight for the line. However, he made up for that with real fight.

This was Pat's first year on the Varsity, but from all indications during the past season, it will not likely be the last.

BURNS McATEE

Fullback

McAtee played his second and last year with the Jackets. He is a good ball carrier, and can be relied upon for a gain just when that gain is needed.

Aside from being a valuable man in football, he is likewise one of the best baseball catchers in the Conference.

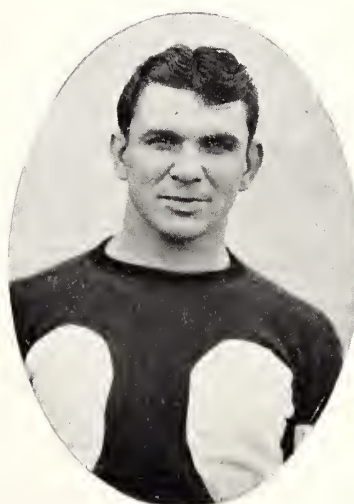

It goes without saying, Mac will be sorely missed.

"Vic" URBAN

Guard

This was "Vic's" second year out. It took him until the latter part of the season to wake up to the fact that he could play football. His opponents became as mice in the presence of a cat.

Sting in a new place next year, "Vic."

JIMMY FIELDS

Fullback

Fields came from Winters High School. He had little football experience, but proved to be one of the best men in the backfield. Jim was a fast man, and he often hit the center of the line for long gains.

You have three more years, Jim. Remember the slogan: "For Howard Payne My All."

JIMMY ZARAFONETIS

Halfback

Jimmy came to us from Breckenridge High School. He was a very good ball carrier, and ran good interference.

With a little more experience and more determination, Jimmy will be a valuable man for Howard Payne next year.

FRANKLIN ETHERIDGE

Tackle

Etheridge played his second year on the Varsity. He has that "never die" spirit, which is so necessary to the making of a good football player.

Etheridge loves the game, and he likes to fight for his Alma Mater.

He will be there when the first whistle blows next year.

DANA PRINCE

Center

This was Prince's first year with the Yellow Jackets. He came to us from a Junior College, and is indeed a valuable man.

Prince will be here next fall to wear the gold and blue colors, and fight for his new Alma Mater.

TRACK

The Season

Due to the fact that all our track events, with the exception of the meet with Tarleton and the Texas Relays, come after this volume goes to press it will be impossible to say who will make a letter and who will not. Therefore it will be the aim of this book to give an idea of what the Yellow Jackets will likely do for the rest of the year.

Howard Payne has only three letter men back from last year's squad. These men are Harvey Stanford, of Electra, Vic Urban, Junction, and Herman Hubby, San Angelo. The Jacket team is made around these three men.

Stanford is a weight man of no mean ability, while his main event is the high jump. Harvey leaps six feet and better almost consistently. This is Harvey's last year on the Jackets' track team, and he was elected captain to lead the team through a successful season.

Vic Urban is one of the best if not the best weight men that has ever donned a Jacket uniform. At present he holds the Texas Conference record in both the discus and javelin. His record for the discus of 142 feet and 10 inches, and his distance for the javelin is 166 feet. He can toss the shot around 40 feet, and he is just a fair sprinter and quarter miler.

Herman Hubby is a half miler that is hard to outrun. This is Hubby's second and last year on the Yellow Jacket squad, and he will be greatly missed from next year's team. He won second in the Texas Conference track meet last year.

Thus far, the Jackets have been in two meets, the Texas Relays, and dual meet with John Tarleton. The Jackets scored 85 points, while the Plowboys made 34. Vic Urban was high point man of the meet with 18 points.

The Jackets have three more meets besides the ones mentioned above.

HARVEY STANFORD, Captain—High jump, discus, high hurdles, broad jump.

"VIC" URBAN—Discus, javelin, 220 yard dash, relay, shot put.

SAMMIE LEE—220 yard low hurdles, high hurdles.

JUD CADENHEAD—Two-mile run.

HERMAN HUBBY—Half mile, mile relay.

CLARENCE McCARVER—100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles.

JACK AGEE—High jump, broad jump, pole vault.

CLAUDE BOYD—Broad jump, shot put, javelin.

JIMMY FIELDS—Quarter mile, 100-yard dash.

SHELBY JOBES—Shot put.

PAT CAGLE—Mile run.

CECIL BROWN—High hurdles, broad jump.

LEE WALKER—Broad jump.

JIMMY ZARAFONETIS—Quarter mile, mile relay.

NOTLEY HARRELL—Half mile.

TURNER PERKINS—Mile run.

D. H. PEEPLES—220-yard dash.

RALPH FISHER—Mile run.

What Is College Life

From association with those who have attended higher institutions of learning you have the impression that "College Life" must be something Great. It is. But what is it?

College life isn't all logarithms and Sanskrit. The "profs" aren't all whitehaired fathers; the students don't all wear bone-ribbed spectacles and a worried look; a few of the "fossiliferous" type are found in both faculty and student body wherever you go.

Perhaps you'll be the goat for a while. Maybe you'll buy a choice chapel seat for a quarter, or pay some wise-looking upper classman a small bribe because he says he can "get your cuts excused."

You might even be guillible enough to join the boys on a "snipe hunt" by moonlight and hold the bag wide open while the other fellows whistle the birds into it. Then you're sure to be arrested by a bogus "game warden," and it may cost you a lot of remorse and worry before you pay the police sergeant a box of cigars and find the joke is on you.

It may be your lot, if you're a Howard Payne Hall or "Barn" Co-ed, to find your dormitory room stacked some night; you'll find your clothes, books—all your worldly goods—piled in a heap in the middle of the room, while you have to wade through flypaper and dishpans of water to rescue your possessions.

These friendly jokes at your expense serve only as a factor in developing your personality and greatness. But for these you have to work. There never was, and there never will be, a royal road to achievement. But the road called "work" is free to all—any man may walk with impunity over it, without one word of apology. So you find that your College life has been a training school. You have learned to live and work with the "fellows," working and playing, and you alone can tell yourself how much College life was worth.

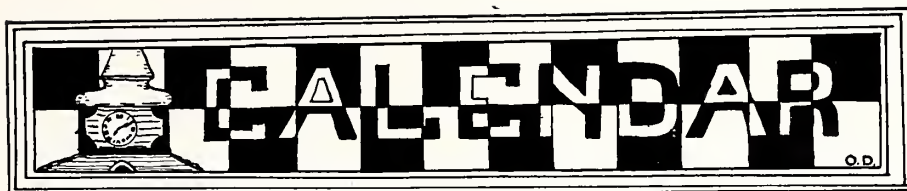

Don't come to College expecting a good time, but come prepared for one.

LeMirage.

Jokes

Here it is.—Some of these may not suit you, but if they don't just read the next one and go on. Using the words of the immortal Washington (or was it Lincoln?), "some of the people like all of the jokes, all of the people like some of the jokes, but all the people don't like all the jokes."

Musings of Claude Boyd: "I am through with this college, although I am only a Junior. You see, it is like this: My roommate has, in the course of a year, borrowed and ruined my best suit, and my second best; my books, fountain pen, my shirts and my car—but that is not the reason that I am leaving. My girl has already announced her engagement. I don't mind that, either. The head of the Science Department has told me that I wouldn't be a success there, but that is not why. My friends have borrowed nearly a hundred dollars, but I wouldn't leave on that account. I worked for three weeks on an English notebook and got a flat F, but what of that? That's not the reason. The end came yesterday. 'Dad' and I were talking of the Thanksgiving game and he said to me, 'Claude, you played like an amateur in that game.' There is a limit to everything, and that is something that I won't stand. I am through with this college for life."

TWO MORE VERSIONS

Blessings on thee, little dame,
With thy bare back and knees the same,
With your short and scanty clothes
And your rolled down silken hose.
With thy red lips, redder more
With lipstick, from the store.
From my heart I give you joy—
Glad that I was born a boy.

Blessings on thee, little kid;
Brainless rook with feet that skid.
With thy dragging full balloons,
And thy jazzy whistled tunes;
With thy red nose, redder still,
There, there, sonny; don't you cry;
You'll be collegiate by and by.

* * * *

Miss Haskew: "What tense is 'I am beautiful'?"

Entire Class: "Past."

* * * *

Geo.: "Why do you call Miss Russel a crystal gazer?"

Clarice Carr: "Because at nine o'clock she starts looking at her watch."

* * * *

Summer hotels, and some aren't.

Ham Gayden: "The entrance exams are getting too easy."

Carrol Ray: "How so?"

Ham: "One member of the Class of '30 is actually so dumb he thinks the Singer Building is the same as the Opera House."

(The above Freshman is the one with the average intelligence.)

* * * *

Olleta Read: "Conductor, Bangs was my station; why didn't you stop there?"

Conductor: "We don't stop there any more. You see, the engineer is mad at the station agent."

* * * *

Inquisitive One: "So you are going to Howard Payne now? But why didn't you go to Simmons or Baylor?"

Jack Pettit: "Well, you see, I had already had four years of prep work in another prep school."

* * * *

The other day Herman Hubby, the cow expert, bet Tuffy, the cow expertess, that she did not even know how to milk.

"That's easy," she said. "You simply take the cow in the barn and give her some breakfast food and water; then you drain her crank case."

* * * *

Opal Clayton: "Have you put the little sailors on the table yet?"

Evelyn Anderson: "What do you mean, little sailors?"

Opal: "Oh, you know; the goblets."

* * * *

Mr. Bohlin: "The next funeral piece we will play is "He was just a Freshman with Sophomore ideas," to be played in slow tempo.

* * * *

Fourteen men on a Freshie's chest; yo, ho, ho—and they broke a paddle.

* * * *

When better exams are made, they won't be passed. Ask the man who bones one.

Professor Winebrenner: "Mr. Doyle, do you sleep between sheets both summer and winter?"

Ed Doyle: "Naw; I sleep between my room-mate and the window."

* * * *

Some Short Story—Simon Stoddard, Sophomore.

Simon Stoddard, slim, simple student, stood stark still staring sullenly * * suddenly saw Sadie Simpkins, "sweet sixteen," stepping sturdily.

Sam Sloane, sly sport, sat surveying surroundings sadly, saw sublime Sadie sauntering slowly. Sam, seeking Sadie, saw Sadie seated silently, so Sam swaggered softly soliciting Sadie socially.

Sadie screamed * * slapped Sam. Soon Sam sampled Simon's strength. Sam, Simon struggled; Sadie shouted, "strike Sam." Sam soon sped somewhere.

Summer's sun sank slowly. Stars shone shimmeringly. Sadie Simpkins sat strangely silent. Simon suddenly said something somewhat surprising.

Sadie simply said, "So sudden."

Soon Sadie shared Simon's saving.

So stops Simon's sentimental story.

* * * *

Travis Curtis, while taking the census last summer, had many amusing experiences such as the one below.

"How many in your family?" he asked a woman one day.

"Five," peevishly answered the woman. "Me, the old man, one kid, a cow and a cat."

"And what is the politics of your family?" he asked.

"Mixed," she said shortly. "I'm a Republican, the old man is a Democrat, the kid's wet, the cow is dry, and the cat is a populist."

* * * *

When he was a Frosh he entertained his wimmin with passages from the "Shooting of Dan McGrew." When he was a Soph he bragged about his rating on the campus. When he was a Junior he recited free verse to her. When he was a Senior he told her dirty jokes.

* * * *

Dorothy Bryson: "Men never seem able to look me in the eye."

Prince: "Then wear them longer."

* * * *

A synonym is a word you use when you can't spell the other one.

THEN AND NOW

From the Lasso of Nineteen and Twelve and Thirteen:

Some of the best yells of the year 1912:

"Gazella, gazella, gazella, geza,
Get out, get out, get out o' the way,
Sis-boom! Sis-boom! Sis-boom! Ba,
Howard Payne, Howard Payne,
Rah, rah, rah."

"K-Rip! K'Rip! K'Riplata tipala tap!
Oh, Oh!
Rinkta, linkta, Hiotatamus
Hopula, Skitula, Co pulagatamus
Chinkta lak, Chinkta lee
K-villa, K-vello, K-victory
Oh, ho!
Hoogala, Choogala, Kudula Kan,
Ragala, Tagala, Melican Man,
Let 'er go rip! Let 'er go roose!
Tingala Tangala, turn 'em aloose!
Zip! Bang! Howard Payne."

* * * *

Ellie: "Mr. Druggist, I want some talcum powder."

"Mennen's?"

"No sir; women's."

* * * *

The following "characteristic" punctuation for the various college classes is prescribed by the Prof. of English:

Freshmen

Sophomore !

Junior ?

Senior .

The cleanest thing in Howard Payne College—the basket ball team.
The dirtiest thing—the football team after the Thanksgiving game.

* * * *

Natural Gas Going at Reduced Prices—Continual Flow; Never Known to Cease—Winnie King.

* * * *

Nov. 28.—Football suits hung up to dry, for the last time.

THEN AND NOW

Taken from the year of 1927, in and around Howard Payne:

"Yellow Jackets, Fight, Fight,
Yellow Jackets, Fight, Fight,
Yellow Jackets, Fight, Fight, Fight."

"Yea Team, Yea Team, Yea Team, Fight, Fight, Fight."

(NOTE.—"That good old Howard Payne line" has lived through all these many years, and it is the only one to do so.)

Will There Be Money to Send Her to College?

Before you know it, that wonderful daughter of yours will be old enough to go to college. And a college education costs money—a lot of money.

That's why, if you're wise, you'll begin to save for it now. Dollar by dollar you can add to the fund—and if you manage carefully, the savings will grow as fast as she does!

One of the best ways to save is by shopping regularly at Piggly Wiggly. You save on groceries, meat, fruits and vegetables — on everything you buy for household use. Yet you do not sacrifice quality. Everything at Piggly Wiggly is clean, fresh, good —the nationally advertised brands of highest quality.

Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary

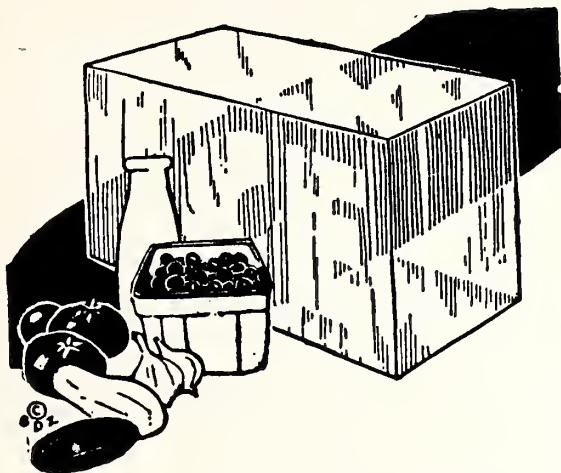

SEMINARY HILL, TEXAS

1. It is a standard, A-1 theological seminary, with four schools in one—Theology, Religious Education, Missionary and Sacred Music.
2. It has a faculty of forty-five, consecrated, scholarly, soul-winning men and women, loyal to the truth of God's word and co-operant with all the work of Southern Baptists.
3. It puts strong and enduring emphasis upon scholarship, the profoundest and most reverent, and sane New Testament, constructive evangelism and church and kingdom efficiency.
4. It trains, in the best scholarship and most approved methods, preachers, religious education workers, gospel singers, missionaries for home and foreign fields, assistant pastors, young women and married women for all the phases of Christ's Kingdom work.
5. Its rates are reasonable — cheap but good board; convenient, comfortable dormitories, apartment houses, cottages, at low rates; no tuition except where private teachers for individual studies, and that only in music.

False Economy

is often the heaviest item of expense in the management of household affairs. So, don't mislead yourself into believing that you can obtain maximum efficiency from your refrigerator on 10 lbs. of ice when it absolutely requires 50 lbs.

Remember, Ice Preserves Ice, and if you will keep that little cold storage plant of yours filled with PURE ICE, you will soon find that your Ice costs you less than when using the smaller quantity.

You can also make an additional saving by buying one of our COUPON BOOKS. If you do not know just which size to buy, ask our driver or call up and we will be glad to explain the one that best answers your own use.
